DISPUTES BLOCK FRANK SPEECHES

WILBURN PLEADS HE KILLED IN SELF DEFENSE

Felix Diaz Begs U. S. to Save Him

NEW TURN TO SAVE KING'S SLAYER

Court Admits Confession Over
Protest of Prisoner's Counsel.

County Treasurer Recites It.

ATLANTA, Oct. 24.—When the trial of Nick Wilburn, charged with the murder of James King, was resumed this morning, a marked change in the position of the defense was evidenced. Attorney John R. Conley suggested that he would probably plead self defense for his client, bringing out this feature in Wilburn's own story. The first new evidence submitted by the defense was some of the men who testified yesterday for the State.

A stubborn effort was made by the defense yesterday afternoon to keep from the jury the name of the man who Wilburn had in mind at the time of his arrest while he was being hurried through the woods to Macon to escape. It was not until after the defense had been joined in Atlanta, Georgia, that it became probable that he will receive the authority he asks and with which becomes the world's most powerful ruler.

Atlanta Club Is Host To Visiting Elevens

University of Georgia and University of Alabama baseball teams, Atlanta visiting for the football game Saturday have been invited to make their headquarters at the University Club, where the members of both teams will be at the Park during Saturday morning.

Judge Frank allowed the confession to go to the jury as it was related by County Treasurer Etheridge.

Confession to Etheridge:

"When Nick Wilburn asked him what he had done, he told him that if what he had to say was voluntary, and he told me it was of his own free will, and that he had been wanting to tell it all day, then he had no inducement or hope of reward."

No Sylphs Wanted For Women Police

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Young and maid-like girls need not be accepted as applicants on the police force according to the requirement issued by the City Civil Service Commission.

Applicants must be between 30 and 40 years of age, and the height, the bare feet must be 10 inches, 9 feet and 8 feet 8 inches, while they will have to tip the scales between 118 and 180 pounds.

Already more than 100 women have applied at the offices of the commission for positions on the police force.

Drowns in Cistern Under Her Kitchen

CHARLESTON, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Mary McHenry, 42 years old, was found drowned in a cistern under her kitchen by her little daughter, who had been sleeping in bed.

Upon investigation discovered a broken place in the kitchen floor, and further search revealed the dead body of Mrs. McHenry.

It was learned that Mr. King looked around at me I had the gun on a line with him and fired.

"King was very angry and said, 'Nick, don't do the same thing again.' I followed him, and he took the gun and pointed it at my feet and fell dead. I followed him and placed the gun by the body."

When cross-examined, Mr. Etheridge said he did not know whether Mr. King was putting him on. He said that after Wilburn confessed he cried and when them not let him (the mob) break his neck.

Ex-Vice President Fairbanks' Wife Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Alice Weston Fairbanks, wife of the former Vice President of the United States, died here to-day.

Georgia—Rain Friday; clearing Saturday.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 24.—Henry D'Allesandro, 21, of the underwriting section here, says he judges the character of women by the amount of powder on their faces.

"Too much powder on a woman's face indicates lack of morals," he says.

The weather section here says, "The certain of Diaz's friends in Vera Cruz who have been holding a special train in readiness for him in order that he could be in the city Sunday when the balloting takes place.

He believes to be the result of the action of certain of Diaz's friends in Vera Cruz who have been holding a special train in readiness for him in order that he could be in the city Sunday when the balloting takes place.

The Government agents said that the former sent his son to Berlin in order to learn engraving.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 24.—U. S. Liner Diaz has issued a proclamation claiming the right to have a representative on the committee that is to be formed to consider the right to appoint and dismiss cabinet members without the assembly's ratification, and the right to promulgate all laws, including the constitution. This is to be claimed an unrestricted veto power.

He asserts further that he has the right to issue executive orders, the right to appoint any official, the right to draw money from the treasury when the assembly is not in session, and also the right to issue proclamations when the assembly is not in session.

It is believed that he will receive the authority he asks, and with thus become the world's most powerful ruler.

Invitations to make the trip to Mexico were sent out by Thomas Whipple Connally, the club secretary.

He told us that Mrs. King was the aux of it all. I asked him how he received the news. He said,

After he called him into the kitchen, and threw his arms around his neck and hugged and kissed him, and from that time on he became his best friend. She used to tell him to kill his husband, he said.

Wilburn told us that Mrs. King had suggested that he either put poison in some whisky or shoot him some time. It was the day of the killing he went to the house, and finding Mrs. King there said where Mr. King was, and Mrs.

King, his best friend, was in the woods to shoot birds. Wilburn said he replied, "Now is my time, and he said he had no inducement or hope of reward."

DORSEY CHARGES FRANK CONSPIRACY

Fearing Huerta, Felix Diaz Appeals to U.S.

DOUBLE LIFE CHARGED TO EATON BY WIDOW

"Admiral Was Sometimes a Gentleman, and Sometimes Vilest of Vile," Says Woman's Defender.

PLYMOUTH, MASS., Oct. 24.—Alorney Francis T. Geagan, junior counsel for Mrs. Eaton, widow of Admiral Eaton, in his opening address to the defense, told the most interesting parts of the story which the accused woman is to tell to the jury from the witness stand.

"We will show you that there was no friction, no misunderstanding on the day when the Admiral was taken sick," he said. "We will show that many interesting and important facts, also, were the Admiral's own misapprehensions and facts; that they were not intended for harm and that they were not half-distractions."

"We will show you that he had a double life, that sometimes he was a gentleman, other times he was the viles of the viles. We will show by the testimony of the Admiral's widow that he rented his first wife and himself in Washington, D. C., that while his first wife was sick and on her deathbed he had been drunk driving about until night and found night till morning and although in the very posture at the time of the burial of this woman, he was under no obligation to stay at the funeral. In addition to this habit, we will show from the men who served with him on the battleship Massachusetts that he had a double life."

He said a Boston physician prescribed a tablet containing one one-hundredth grain of arsenic "to Adm. Eaton for stomach trouble."

Mrs. Russell Gives $5,000 to Hospital.

TYNGHURST, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Frederick Russell, of Russell Harbor, Long Island, bequeathed $5,000. It is announced to-day that she had made her proposal to the St. John's Hospital.

The fund was started with a gift of $2,000 from Alexander S. Cochran.

ARNOLD ATTACKS "MOB SPIRIT"

U. S. Stand In Mexico is Backed By Great Britain FIFTEEN TRAPPED IN NEW YORK FACTORY FIRE

GIRLS LEAP
TO DEATH
TO CHEAT
FLAMES

Police Recover Several Bodies
From Wrecked Building—Many More Burned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Four bodies were recovered at 5:30 o'clock this morning and eleven more are believed to still lie in the six-story factory building at No. 208 Canal street, which was wrecked by an explosion at 2:30 a.m.

Five hundred men and women were in the structure when the flames started. The girls, who were in the seats to avoid smoke and fire escape, more than a score finding themselves trapped on the second floor fire escape, leaped to the streets below, some of them, one and two girls, at a time. Others were seen to rush back into the flames.

Vincenzo Kralik, an employee of one of the firms occupying the building, dashed down the fire escape with his clothing ablaze. He said a sheet of flame swept through the factory, and he feared several of his compatriates had been burned to death.

60 Girls Die
From Flames.

A fire of unknown origin, which was discovered at 2:30 a.m., completely engulfed the Brady-Miller stable on Marietta and Barlow streets, did damage estimated at $6,000, threatened to burn down the building, and forced 50 girls to flee for their safety Friday afternoon.

Not far from the entire fire department joined in the battle for the safety of the girls.

Smoke from the burning building reached the roof that occupied the Atlantic Electric Company's offices, and threw its employees, half a hundred, into a panic. At the first appearance of the cry for fire, they ran from most of the rooms through all three floors used by the employees.

The Rush for Exit.
Immediately the panic was on. The management of the company, realizing the peril of a panic, commanded the girls to remain quiet to quiet the terrorized employees and escape to safety in the street.

The burning building, a two-story frame house, was unoccupied. It was the property of the Miller Real Estate Company, which had sold it for $1,500 insurance.

The flames which were discovered by passers-by, they originated, it was later found, on the first floor in the office of the Atlantic Electric Company, which had been in progress for some time. The fire engorged rapidly, it had gained tremendous headway.

Not only was the envelope containing the money which the company had also of the Capital City Chair Company, the Atlanta City Chair Company, which were adjacent.

10,000 Gather at Scene.

So fiercely did the flames eat their way through the flimsy wooden structure that for a time it looked as though they would leap over the adjoining buildings. To prevent this, several streams of water were turned on the building, but the water was unstable and prevented further damage.

An immense crowd, estimated at 10,000 persons, gathered to witness the scenes of destruction, and the work. Practically all traffic on Marietta street was demolished.

DR. J. E. WHITE DEFENDS ENVOY PAGE'S BOOK

At Carolina Banquet, Clergyman Resents Attack Made by Mrs. Walter D. Lamar.

Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist Church and chosen head of the State Confederate Society at the annual dinner in the Hotel Atlanta Thursday night, took issue with Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, of Macom, head of the State Department of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in her recent attack on Walter H. Page, native North Carolinian and Ambassador to Great Britain. Mrs. Lamar's charges that Mr. Page's book, "The South," was untrue to the South and the Confederacy, were refuted by Dr. White, who sharply denied the author.

The attack, made on Mr. Page, who had responded in his defense to the toast of "Georgia," "was most unjust and untruthful. It is an instance where people will take up prejudices and extend them to a large degree. The book is not unfair to the South, and it is not unfair to the Confederacy. If Mr. Page had waited twenty years, he would not have written the book, for his sympathies and views were only temporary. Mr. Page sent me a copy of the book when it was first published, and there is not one word in it covers a single suggestion that a white man would wish to make."

Dr. White said that Mr. Page was a man with no southern sympathies, and the too North Carolinians who gathered around the festive board to do honor to their native State. His speech was well received, and he endorsed the State of Georgia "because it is an adopted State of so many North Carolinians." He spoke shortly before his election as president of the society, and the officers chosen were the following: Vice president, J. Lindsay Hopkins; secretary, T. H. H. Jones; treasurer, G. O. Ballenger; trustees, W. B. Carroll, one of Atlanta's most prominent business men, and Colonel P. Andrews, one of Atlanta's most prominent North Carolinians. The Atlanta chapter, which includes North Carolina, paying tribute to the memory of General Robert E. Lee, who had gone out into the world and carried the banner of the South.

Colonel Bryan, reading portions of the speech, read several telegrams from prominent North Carolinians who had invited him to speak, and able to attend, greeting the banquet guests and expressing their loyalty to their native state. Among those wired were Clarence Poe of Raleigh; Dr. D. C. Peacock, of Winston-Salem; Josephine Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; Dr. George T. Winston, of Atlanta; Dr. W. L. Moore, of the University of North Carolina, and others.

Several extemporaneous speeches dealing with the only subject the North Carolinians all agreed upon—was their native State—were made before the meeting adjourned. Those dear to the heart of the true Tarheel, including "I'm a Tarheel Bon," "The Tarheel State," and "The Tarheel State Forever," were sung under the leadership of P. C. McDuffie.

CIRCUS CHILD PREFERS WILD PETS TO DOLLIES

Margaret Wallace, five, and her pets.

Leopard, Lion and Tiger Cubs Know Her and Delight to Scamper About With Her.

Now comes little Miss Margaret Wallace, about 5 years, with a "wild animal ring" of her mother, Mrs. Rose Wallace, is wardrobe mistress to the Barnum & Bailey Circus, which delighted Atlanta last Monday—and throws a bonfire into the camp of Atlanta little girls who think they are in the seat of heaven of delight while they are cuddling their dolls or stroking the silken hair of their kittens.

Little Miss Wallace sees Atlanta little girls do more than a real honest-to-goodness pet is. She turns up her little nose in disdain at the thought of playing with dolls, or even with little girls' dolls.

She is partial to wild animals for pets, and will strike the ears of a lion with the same indifference with which she will put their dolls to bed. They all know her and love her, and if she pets the leopard and tiger get jealous.

This Ghost Story Rivals Poe's Raven

same species as the animal at Grant Park.

Neither of the animals is more than a cub, and they scamper about the room, and are the best of friends—so long as she treats them all alike.

The little girl was not loath to pose for a picture, and she gathered her pets about her, and grinned happily.

"My pets are better than dolls," she said, "and I am better off with my tiger and my leopard and tiger than to play with dolls and kittens. They can almost talk to me, and have lots of fun, a great deal more than I could have with dolls."

This Ghost Story Rivals Poe's Raven

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Oct. 24.—The weird and uncanny raven made famous by Edgar Allan Poe is outdone by a real live raven.

A tall, gaunt woman, garbed in somber black and veiled, walks the streets of the residence of Mrs. Alice Bowen, and she is seen to walk past the persons followed. When it is declared the woman gradually fades away.

For the past week this mysterious woman has been noticed. She has been seen to follow the persons followed, until the persons followed would turn it is declared the woman gradually fades away.

Her home, a baby house (completely spotted and with wonderfully silken fur), and a baby tiger.

AMERICANS TO BE SOUGHT BY T. R. FEARED DEAD

Railroad Surveyors Lost in Brazil Jungle—Sweetheart of One Ill From Worry.

TROY, OHIO, Oct. 24.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, now in South America, has found that Wilbur Cromer, 28, wealthy young son of this doctor, has been taken by cannibals in the wilds of Brazil.

Relatives here to-day were convinced that their fears will be realized when investigation into Cromer's disappearance is conducted by Col. Cole Roosevelt.

Professor Page, a Chicago scientist who accompanied the president to Brazil, said he had been called from Lima, Peru, to Rio de Janeiro.

The last heard from him was in February, 1912, when a letter from Cromer told of progress through the jungle.

The letter said he had been ill and the letter related a narrow escape from drowning while fording a swollen river.

When no further news came from them, the American Consul at Lima was notified and made an investigation. It was discovered that guns and ammunition had been taken from Cromer and had been found in the hands of natives reported to be cannibals.

Both Cromer and Page left for South America in November, 1912, in the interest of Chicago capital, and lay out a route for new railroads from Lima, Peru, to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Railroad Surveyors Lost in Brazil
Jungle—Sweetheart of One Ill From Worry.

The Georgia Federation of Colored Women's Clubs has presented the Railroad Commission a petition that the commission pay the full value of the money lost by the surveyors.

The petition asks better railroads and accommodations for colored passengers.

Chief Magistrate and Inspector with him.

Indirectly, the big show is being held under the direction of the State, and to that extent is peculiarly interesting to the members of the General Assembly.

Chairman Murphy Candler and Judge Expert Prince Webster leave today for Washington, where they will attend the National Convention of Railroad Commissioners, officially representing the State of Georgia.

This annual gathering brings to a great number of very eminent State officials, who gather as a sort of clearing house throughout the nation here and there, to discuss the problems of railroads and operation from the standpoint of the railroads.

Both Mr. Candler and Mr. Webster make it a particular point to attend these meetings, as they are of great importance, seeking to clear up difficulties before they reach the courts.

The two judges are leaving now, however, seeking to clear up difficulties before they reach the courts.

RESCUERS FIND 100 DEAD IN DEBRIS OF MINE BLAST; 100 BODIES STILL BURIED

DAWSON, N. MEX.—(UPI)—A rescue party arrived here this afternoon to help the survivors. The only ones left from the mouth of mine No. 1 of the Star Coal Company, where more than 200 coal miners are known to have been trapped, were two men who had a mile of debris caused by Wednesday's terrific explosion and revealed nearly 100 bodies. News of the first finds came to help the men who crowded around the entrance. At least 100 others, mostly women, children and rescuers, were pushing against the ropes that had been hung across the way of the rescuers. One of the first groups arrived from the northeast, where the word had been passed among the mothers, fathers, sisters and sweethearts of the men who made up the company. They had gathered in houses or scattered about the subterranean chambers, two miles from the mine entrance.

Since the first group of the survivors had turned and walked away from the mouth of the cavern they had swallowed their loved ones, whence presently the torn and mangled bodies of the dead were lifted by the rough hands of their surviving comrades. The town went to its homes where death placed a dozen bodies in each home as a lifeless form was brought there from the mine. Nearly every family in Dawson has been robbed of its male support, so many men having perished in the vicinity of the camp. The last faint hope that any more live men would be found in the mine flickered and died away, and the last of the 22 bodies have been taken out since those unburied after two nights and a day.

New Railroad Asks Charter in Georgia of constant digging will not be carried to the mouth of the shaft before tonight.

The rescue parties William Poole and James Lurdi had gone farthest into the mine. Rock and coal began to fall as they worked. Confused, they removed their helmets. Warden Kerr and Roy Simplician attempted to reach them, and in the excitement the oxygen helmets which they wore were knocked off. Both men were threatening to envelop the four miners. Other members of the Federal rescue crew reached them and dragged them out of danger. Poole and Lurdi had been buried in the mine, and were found in the mine, where it was feared they perished. Kerr and Simplician were taken to the surface and revived.

WIFE AVERS SULZER'S LIFE IS THREATENED

MRS. WM. SULZER.

Slayer of Infant to Hang on December 19

BLUE RIDGE, Oct. 24.—John Wright, 21, convicted murderer in the first degree, was sentenced to prison for life by a jury in Franklin Superior Court for the death of his infant daughter of Monroe Hughes.

Counsel for Wright stated that after slaying his wife he had an effort to rescue her but was unable to do so because of the skull of the 2-year-old girl he carried in her arms.

He asserted further that he had the right to appoint all high officials without the assembly's concurrence, and it is probable that he will receive the authority he asks, and will become the world's most powerful ruler.

As the people have more confidence in President Wilson, he is asking for the right to appoint all high officials without the assembly's concurrence, and it is probable that he will receive the authority he asks, and will become the world's most powerful ruler.

Chinese President Demands Power of Absolute Dictator

SPECIAL Cable to THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN, Oct. 24.—President Yuan Shih Kai has issued a proclamation claiming the right to have a representative on the committee that is drafting the constitution, the right to appoint and dismiss cabinet members without the assembly's assent, and the right to promulgate all laws, including the constitution. This is the claim to an unprecedented power.

He asserts further that he has the right to appoint all high officials without the assembly's concurrence, and it is probable that he will receive the authority he asks, and will become the world's most powerful ruler.

Chattanooga Woman Is Fatally Stricken

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Sarah Bradford, wife of Dr. John Bradford, editor of Lookout Post, G. A. E., dropped dead here yesterday.

Mr. Bradford is surprised to learn that his five children, C. Hoyt Bradford, of Nashville; Clark B. Bradford, manager of the Chattanooga Journal; Mrs. Hoyt Bradford, Mrs. Park, Edgair D. Jones and Miss Maid Bradford, of Chattanooga.

Government agents said yesterday the farmer sent his son to Berlin in order to learn engineering.

Farmer and Son Held As Counterfeitors

ALEXANDRIA, La., Oct. 24.—Robert Closson, an aged farmer, and his son have been arrested by Federal authorities in charge of counterfeiting operations here. Numerous forged notes were found buried in a potato patch and samples of the alleged counterfeiting operations were seized.

Government agents said yesterday the farmer sent his son to Berlin in order to learn engineering.

Milledgeville Man Shot by a Footpad

MILLEDGEVILLE, Oct. 24.—As Park Burke was going to the Central Depot, a strange man sprang from behind a bush and shot him. He commanded him to throw up his hands. Before he could comply, the man fired, the bullet taking effect in the left shoulder, causing a painful wound. The man escaped.

Mr. Burke recently moved here from Rockford, Ill.

ATLANTA CLAIMS RECOGNIZED BY ROADS AGENT

Charles P. Light, of Washington, here for a few days, figures that Atlanta has the best chance to land the 1930 American Roads Conference next year on two counts, viz:

First, that Atlanta is a good place to hold a road congress, and second, as a city.

Second, that the surgical injunction about needing a physician who are sick will be carried out to the letter.

Mr. Light is field secretary of the American Highways Association. He has to make a report to the conference.

First, he said, Atlanta has the largest number of good roads in the surrounding section.

Mr. Light, accompanied by W. T. Winn, County Commissioner, and W. C. McRae, of the Georgia Dept. of Commerce, spent the morning looking over Atlanta's highways and the surrounding area with both enthusiasm.

The facilities of Atlanta are exceptional," he said. "I've been in other cities seeking the congressional roads, and Atlanta is the best."

"Atlanta's hotel accommodations are first-class in every way, and this is a great place to hold a road congress," he said. "The Hotel House is staying close by Mr. Light, so he doesn't miss any of the points of interest in the city during the course of his visit, next Tuesday."

Conrad Has Vacated Value.

The first road congress brought out about 1,000 delegates. The last one, last June, had 1,000. The next one, Mr. Light is sure, will draw 10,000 to 15,000, an ideal place for a big convention."

Mr. Light also said Atlanta is the only city that has no organized traffic police.

WIELDS STOLEN FOWL IN FIGHT WITH POLICE

Negro, Cornered in Alley by Patrolmen, Is Taken Only After Terrible Battle.

Policemen Turner and Duncan saw their nightsticks with vigor as they patrolled their beat at 3 o'clock Friday morning. The patrol beat was exceedingly dull and they perched in alleys and areasways, hoping against hope that a "Gyp" the Hoss would run out and test their mettle.

At McDonald Avenue and Harris Street a negro ran down the street and slipped into an alley. There chickens squirmed in his clutch. Policeman Turner looked at Policeman Duncan.

"Son," he said, "you're injured, boy."

"Not better," replied Policeman Duncan.

So with determination of nightsticks, the men opened fire. The negro dashed into the alley after the thief. The negro stopped, all right. Also he stopped, all right, officers striking Duncan on the head.

Turner ran into the fray while Duncan maintained him with a burning stamped chicken at his head.

The policeman grabbed the negro and again beat the policeman with a nightstick. The negro got up one of the other chickens and then again stopped, all right, officers and men and their bullies against a wall, squirming chickens.

The police continued the assault, the negro lost the range. His chickens were scattered and the policemen continued biting. He bit both policemen.

"Turner, get out of here," the officer grabbed him and turned it to the poor human. Only the presence of Turner's superior officer saved him from death. Duncan knocked the negro cold, hit him silly and he was taken to headquarters.

At the station it developed that Police Officer Turner had been chasing the same thief two hours. The negro got his name as Henry Langford. He had gone to the home of Florence Green, a negro, at Houston and Peachtree Streets, to be captured by the woman.

He had told the negro until the policemen came. Before Jones and Watson got there, however, Langford snatched the negro and carried the woman down with a chicken and east, carrying three towels with him.

COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—While the weather map showed general rains over central and eastern belt, which were expected, the market was quiet, with the feeling by many was that a reaction was imminent. The market was for a reaction, together with Liverpool and London, where the latest prices here were at a net decline of 5 cents.

After the call there was an avalanche of reports, and the market on the list increased its decline to 11 cents. The market was quiet, with predictions for warm weather in the South and the West, and the market generally during the next 24 hours. The market was quiet, with some selling movement and so old some companies were said to be holding.

For some time, but bull leaders extended their hold on the market, which would go still higher than it did when Robert reached 142 1/2 yesterday and their friends stay off the market.

The market was quiet, with a short account of some companies which had been sold to the

STOCKS

BY CHARLES W. STONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Although the tone of the stock market this morning was general, the market was mixed at the opening, strength quickly followed by weakness, and within fifteen minutes prices generally were ranging between 1/2 and 1 cent.

Advances were the most prominent feature of this upturn, advancing from 1/2 to 1 cent, while declines were recorded in Union Pacific, which Rock Island preferred also made an appearance, and some of the railroads of the West, particularly the Southern Pacific, were up.

Some of the States Steel companies followed with advances, and some of the railroads were made in American Can.

American in London, however, was down 1/2 cent, while the aluminum stocks were slightly advanced.

1,100,000 Members On W. C. T. U.'s Roll

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The world's largest organization, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, now has over 1,100,000, according to reports read to-day at the opening of the four-day convention of the organization in Boston.

The president, Rosamond, Countess of Carlisle, of England, was unable to be present owing to illness, but sent a message from Lady August Howard, and which was greeted with wild enthusiasm.

Miss Anna E. Page, who represented 20 of the 50 countries where the W. C. T. U. has been organized.

Negro, Cornered in Alley by Patrolmen, Is Taken Only After Terrific Battle.

SUES FOR LOSS CAUSED BY REALTY STRINGENCY

Clarifying that R. D. and G. S. King had failed to comply with the contract calling for the purchase of property valued at $40,000, No. 26 Ponce De Leon avenue, John C. Friday, attorney for the defendant, told the court yesterday.

Mr. King said the sum for which the property was sold was $15,000.

"Shall we say it injured him?"

"We better," replied Policeman Duncan.

With brandishing of nightsticks and loud commands to stop, they dashed into the alley after the thief. The negro stopped, all right, but the policemen, instead of striking Duncan on the head,

Duncan rushed into them, white.

Duncan grabbed a chicken at Turner.

The thief slammed a chicken at Turner.

The policemen grabbed the negro and he began to scream.

He picked up one of the other chickens and threw it at the policemen and their rifles against a third.

The policemen ran and the negro lost the range. His chickens were scattered and he began biting.

PATTEN AND LOEB OUT OF FLORIDA GAME

Coach Heisman Refuses to Take a Chance With Injured Players; Thoman at Quarter.

WHEN the Tech team lines up against the University of Florida at Jacksonville tomorrow, Jerry Patten, Liner, and Tom Loeb, center, respectively, will be on the side lines. Coach Heisman has decided to play the game without these two, which means that the pair will have to wait another week before getting into action again.

Patten, who has been a bad baby wrenching shoulder, both in showing signs of coming around speedily, and Coach Heisman, realizing the value they will be to the Jackets in the November game, would rather wait than risk his return to the Florida battle than take a chance of having them hurt.

With great satisfaction and surprise to all, the coach said, only one change will be necessary in the Tech line-up. Tomman is going to quarter in place of the injured Loeb, and he will enter all the time and be familiar with the game.

The Jackets held their last practice yesterday, and despite the rainy weather, the players worked through the stiffest work-out of the year so far. And the only way to have a wet set was created in the Jackets showing excellent form off the field.

There is a marked improvement in the charging attitude of the Tech men, and the practice on this noticeable defeat in the team's attack is being carried on by the coaches.

The team leaves this afternoon for Jacksonville. About eighteen men will be taken on the trip. Those who will go are: Tomman, halfback; Tom Loeb, center; Lang and McCord, guards; Averill, end; McWhorter, tackle; Press, Hayes and Cushman, ends; Coe, McDonald, Thompson, Johnson, Hargrove, halfbacks; and McDaniel, right halfback, and Johnson.

Armour Laughs at Proposed Beef Law

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Ogden Armour, the Chicago公子哥儿， who arrived here today from the Illinois office, ridiculed the proposed Federal legislation to prevent the American beef companies from buying beef in the Argentine Republic.

"Such a thing is absurd. We will buy meat when and where we please. To say that this Government shall tell us what we can do is ridiculous."

Mr. Armour intimated that he thought extensive importations from the Argentine Republic would not power the cost of living.

McGooerty-Dillon Go Cinched for Nov. 3

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 24.—All hands are on the Eddie McGooerty-Jack Dillon match for their ten-round tilt at New Orleans, because the two fighters have been smoothed over and the match is definitely on. McGooerty is in Chicago where he is winning fighting throughout, but Dillon handles his business in Milwaukee with a whirlwind attack in the first round.

'Spike' Kelly Shakes Waiters in Fast Go

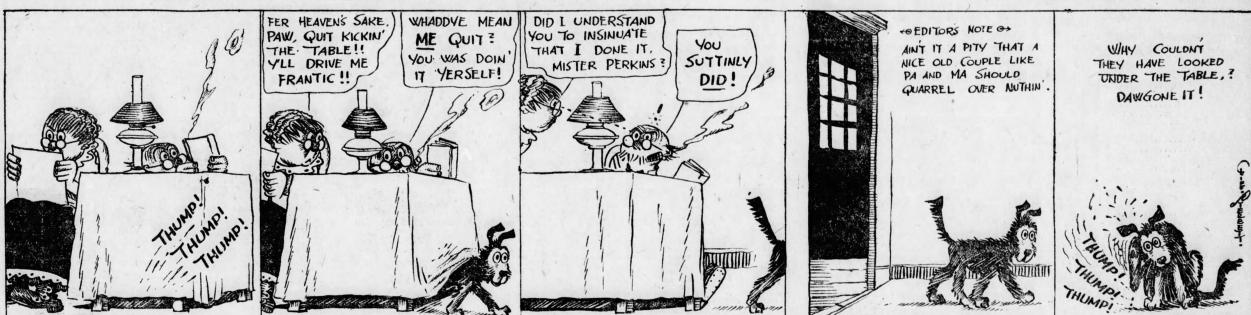

SUPERIOR, WIS., Oct. 24.—"Spike" Kelly had a slight shade on Riley Walkers for ten rounds of hard battling here last night. The boys mixed it vigorously, but the Superior fighter had a decided advantage in any round. Walkers fought valiantly throughout, but Kelly finished him with a lightning attack in the final round.

'Tour Won't Hurt Men'—McGraw
Expects to Cop Pennant in 1914

By James Clarkson.
CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Most of the baseball critics throughout the country are predicting that John J. McGraw's New York Giants won't be beaten by the National League team in 1914.

The little leader also gave us to understand that he was open to trade, but was not considering it.

The fact that the Giants were so severely wiped out by the Philadelphia team, and were considered a cause for so much unfavorable change, has caused some alarm. But the trade, however, those who have closely followed the National League, are not so sure. They are more outspoken in predicting that Fred Merkle's team will be the pennant winners, forming with some other National League teams a strong party.

The little leader also gave us to understand that he was open to trade, but was not considering it.

The team will be in shape enough to make the pennant race next March, at the conclusion of their tour, with a good record.

Then, right on top of the defeat in the American League championship, the team will be in shape enough to take several of his star athletes on a tour of the United States.

But you can make baseball a little Napoleon—McGraw—believe any such theory. He is a man with the will, the wile and crafty baseball man.

SCHOOL RELIEF MUST AWAIT NEW BUDGET

In Meantime, Special Committee
of Board of Education Will Make
Careful Study of Situation.

Members of the Board of Education took the view that no very important improvements could be made in Atlanta's public school conditions until after the new budget is made up by Council in January. That is the reason why no immediate financial funds can be secured any time soon. Between now and then the board members have planned to employ every effort in making a thorough study of the school needs.

It is already evident that when the new County Finance Committee comes into existence next month its first concern will be the school budget. The appointment of a special committee by the Board of Education to make a complete investigation of conditions in the schools is approved by Mayor Woodruff, who has been actively co-operating with this committee to be the leading committee of the Atlanta Federation of Parents of Children's Clubs, and the personal investigation will be added.

Daley Relies on Special Tax

As a member of the committee of the Board of Education, Mr. M. M. Anderson, said Friday that he expected much more to come from the new committee than from the old one in Janua-

try. The poor school facilities, he said, "are a special tax." "We can't get that right away, but with the vote we have, we can get comfortable schoolhouses for our children without being forced to grant a larger appropriation."

The object of our work now is to get all of our data in hand to be presented to the new committee.

A new idea for relief of the over-crowded buildings was suggested from the viewpoint of Alderman James N. R. Dickey, who is serving on the Board of Education to consider the adoption of a plan to open up the classrooms on top of the new buildings. Alderman Nutting said the idea was good, and it should make such schoolrooms very unnecessary, he said.

Mr. John D. Pickett, chairman of the Board of Education, reported to the Board of Education the views of the women of the city on the question expressed at the recent meeting.

Women's Club, Indorse Levy. Mrs. Charles Fairbanks, from the viewpoint of the women, had in mind improvements. She said that the first step of opinion among them was that a special tax was needed.

James L. Key, member of the board of education, fourth ward, described the agitation against the schools as exaggerated and without sufficient cause. He said he did not know who was responsible for it.

He said he did not know who had started the movement for improvements in the schools, but he said it was a good move if proved to be true.

Professor Dykes, principal of the Boys' High School and Mrs. A. T. Woods, principal of the Girls' English Commercial High School, made strong efforts for better buildings for their schools.

Ex-Vice President Fairbanks' Wife Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 21.—Mrs. Charles Fairbanks, wife of former Vice President, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning at the Fairbanks mansion, Thirtieth and Marrian streets, after having been ill with pneumonia since last Wednesday.

The five children were informed of the death of their mother, and all are present with the exception of Frederick Fairbanks, of Los Angeles, Cal., who is now en route to Indianapolis.

Mrs. Fairbanks was 60 years old.

USE "CASCARETS" IF CONSTIPATED

Gently Clean Your Liver, Stomach and Clogged Bowels
While You Sleep.

Take a Cascaret to-night to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and bowels and you will feel well and strong to-morrow. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, cold spleen, are subject to bilious attacks, are sick, gassy, disorderly stomach, or have constipation, take Cascaret. Are you keeping your bowels clean with castor oil? If so, you are passing waste every few days with an cathartic pile or castor oil?

Cascaret tones and regulates the stomach, removes the waste products, helps to digest food and foul gases; takes the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constituents of the bile, thus purifying the intestines and bowels.

To those who are too weak to straighten out by means of a laxative, take Cascaret. It is a safe, healthy bowel action. Cascaret is healthy bowel action. Cascaret gives health and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children. (Adm.)

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Two Sales Are Made On E. Fourteenth St.; Apartment Planned

C. Shelerton May Build 10 Stories
E. M. Horne in $10,000 Deal.
Other Realty Notes.

The Piedmont avenue and East Fourteenth street district figured prominently in real estate news yesterday. Sales included a large corner residence and a large vacant lot on which a big apartment house will be built.

Calvin Shelerton, the well-known architect, has bought a large corner of Piedmont avenue and East Fourteenth street, and will soon begin the erection of a handsome apartment house. The cost of it has not been definitely determined, but it is said that it will be $10,000 per room, plus a maximum of ten, with the cost of the land.

This lot overlooks Piedmont Park opposite the Piedmont Driving Club.

Mention of this deal was made by Mr. John T. Sherrill, president of the Atlanta Federation of Parents of Children's Clubs, and the personal investigation will be added.

East Fourteenth Home Bought.

E. M. Horne has bought from Mrs. David H. Keefer the Keefer home at 1600 Piedmont avenue, for $10,000. The date going to record.

The transaction was handled by Mr. Horne's agency, Mr. Horne has been living on Ormewood Court.

Good Time to Build.

Now is the best time to build, report the experts. It is a good time to build to take advantage of an abundance of building material. They say building costs are down about 2 per cent cheaper than last year, when the greatest building boom in history took place.

It is a good time to buy lumber to build a new home.

Contractors lose money when dealing with low prices, they figure, the better the price, the better the profit to the owner, who has been brought in a crowded market.

There is a good time to buy lumber and some a trifle higher, but the saving to the consumer at the present time is estimated to be about 25 per cent.

The Man Who Fears Disinheritance

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Dear Miss Fairfax:
I am a sixteen-year-old girl of sixes, and I live with a girl of eighteen. I am in business with my father, who is wealthy. I love this girl, but my father said he would disinherit me if I married her. She says she loves me, and I want to go somewhere and start a business for myself, for I will not give up the girl. She wants to go with me and help make our fortune. Shall we now stay out together, or shall I leave her till my fortune is made?

E. H.

DISINHERIT—pooh!—that's a word to frighten the here in a three-set maledrama.

It doesn't belong in a good American vocabulary at all.

Disinherit—what can it disinhibit you from?

Your health—your courage—your manhood—your independence—why, any one of these qualities is worth a thousand dollars.

Don't give one of them up for the sake of a little money, for hearken—the girl you can have and lose, and get another, and then the girl is neither better nor worse, nor happier nor more miserable than you were before you had it or lost it.

You change, and it is different than that girl; in the matter how—don't let any love of money for mere money's sake cripple your character now, when it is just in the making.

The girl is right.

Go to your father and talk to him like a man—say to him, "Father, I love you. I respect you. I am deeply sorry for everything you are trying to do for me. I don't believe you quite understand—I want to explain

WHAT'S ON."

"I love this girl and she loves me—we believe that we can happy together—why do you want to prevent our marriage?"

He will be a sort of a man who would give up the girl he loves just for the sake of money?

"I know you want me to stay with you and do as you bid—not because I love you and want to be with you, but because I want to clutch at your money?"

"Then that the sort of a son you want?"

"I don't believe it."

"Who is it that you want me to marry?—the girl who has money and who will help me build up the business?"

"Don't you know that the kind of money that comes my way is a billion times more than the asset?"

"Don't you realize that a square honest, courageous man is worth more to any business than all the money he could inherit by being a millionaire coward?"

A LEADING QUESTION.

And, father, tell me—the truth now—I'm not a boy any longer. I'm a man—a man that wants to do the square thing by you and by myself—by the man I understand, and who chose my mother to be your wife?

"And who was there in the world that could have made you give her up?—the day she said to you 'I love you'?"

Nine hundred dollars of your own, sir? Well, it comes to worst, that's all the time it has taken to start many a fortune.

Talk it all over with your father—think it all over carefully and earnestly, and then take your sweet heart to the board and look the world in the face with a light heart—and let the fortune go.

THIS mad thing to remember about any dance is to have it entirely upon the turkey trot.

Almost anything can be done in the way of variations. If one has the regular turkey trot going to begin with.

So it may be seen that anything in the way of a new dance is absolutely impossible—it is simply left to the skill and originality of the inventors to come up with certain steps that a dancer or two who dances to perfect this whole dance without any trouble at all.

However, the rapidity with which comes with practice makes a very unusual effect and it is possible for some who dances to perfect this whole dance without any trouble at all.

Everything in the "Futurist Twirl" is based upon a system of eight counts.

So, if one makes an impression in the beginning it will simply matter in the end.

As far as the first step that each consists of a position and set of steps with eight counts.

In the first position the man and woman stand side by side, with the man's left arm around the girl's right shoulder and the girl's right hand held in his and each of their eight trot steps are taken down the on the part of the man. This is done in the regular turkey trot or tango position. The walk can be practised by placing the right foot forward and drawing the left back on the ball of the foot, and then giving place to the left and going through the same motions again.

The girl in the meantime walks the regular eight steps in the regular turkey trot, with the man. The fish walk is an exaggerated style, the only thing that need particular practice is the first part of the dance.

It is a great idea to start with an exaggerated pull backward at each step, and is not at all difficult to learn.

It must be remembered that the man alone does this fish walk, and the girl simply walks back in time to the music.

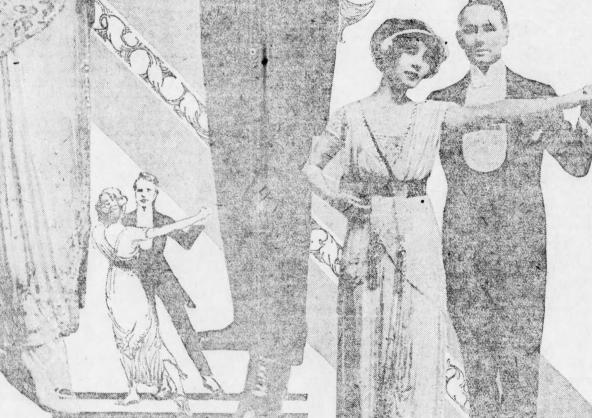

Thus the fish walk is the only part of the dance to be learned in the trot in this part of the dance.

When beginning to learn this dance, however, it is important to perfect your turkey trot swing; this is most important.

The first step of the adopted turkey should attempt to learn any variations. It would be merely a spirit of the thing and let yourself go.

It is after all, the real secret of dancing. Absolute abandonment to the movements of the body is the ability to really enjoy oneself.

After one has all this for a base, then the futurist twirl itself is a thing of easy attainment, and the next movements can be more easily explained and understood.

roon in this position.

Then this position is rapidly changed to a fish walk and gives the regular position for dancing, but with the man's left and the girl's right hands held with an exaggerated stride.

Then comes the regular fish walk, with an exaggerated stride

Always remember this fact, it gives more freedom and yet a better chance for the girls to dance, and besides it looks better.

YOUNG AND TO DECIDE.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am seventeen and in love with a young man four years my senior. He was away for a week and wrote me a letter telling me that he would return in a few days. When he came home, and how so cool it almost was.

He is a man of moods, and such a man makes life unhappy for every one around him. You are too young to know your own heart, and he is too changeable to make you happy if you were.

LET ME HELP YOU.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I met a girl a few days ago, and from the first, have been strange to her. I have fallen in love with her, and can't shake the feeling of love. I am not engaged to her, although we are not engaged to anyone else. However, I have not the nerve to give her something else besides a book or flowers.

A pleasant memory of an evening all her own would please any girl. Let her select a party, with you as hostess, and the girl and the theater, if this is beyond your means send her a box of candy.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I have been keeping company with a young man who is strong on etiquette. Each time I go out with him, he always asks me what I wish to go. Now what I want to do is to go to a picture, but he would like to go to a restaurant. I told him where I really want to go or should I leave it to him to decide?

DR. J. E. WHITE DEFENDS ENVOY PAGE'S BOOK

At Carolina Banquet, Clergyman Resents Attack Made by Mrs. Walter D. Lamar.

Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist Church and chosen head of the North Carolina Society at the annual dinner of the Huguenot Association Thursday night, took issue with Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, of Macon, head of the State Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Her recent attack on Walter H. Page, native North Carolinian and Ambassador to Great Britain, Mrs. Lamar's charge was that the Negroes of the South, who were united to the South and the Confederacy, were resented by Dr. White, who sharply defended the author.

The attack on Mr. Page, Dr. White declared during his response to the toast of "Georgia," was most unjust and untrue. It was instance where persons will turn up patriotic and exploit it for personal advantage. The book is not unfair to the South, and it is not unfair to the Confederacy. The author, he said, did not write the book for 15 years. He would not have written the book, for the conditions he portrays were not true. Mr. Page never wrote a book, which was first published, and there is not contained within its covers a single suggestion that a white man would burn a negro.

Dr. White's defense of Mr. Page was greeted with vociferous applause by the 100 North Carolinians who gathered at the Atlanta Inn to do honor to their native state. His speech, in which he congratulated and eulogized the State of Georgia "because she is the adopted State of so many North Carolinians," was shortly before his election as president of the society. Other officers chosen were as follows: Vice president, Dr. W. C. Thompson; Dr. T. R. Higdon, treasurer; Dr. E. G. Ballou, trustee; W. H. Carroll, W. Colonel Walter P. Andrews, one of Atlanta's leading citizens, responded to the toast. North Carolinians paying tribute to the other Southern States and to the Tarheels who have gone out into the world to make their mark of their native State to the heights of success.

Sheppard Bryan, retiring president of the society, read several telegrams from members of the society who had been invited, but were unable to attend, greeting the banquet as a great success.

Among those who stepped forward to speak were D. F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture; Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; Senator W. K. Kellogg of Asheville, former president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy; United States Senator Lee Overman.

Several extraneous speeches dealt with the progress of the North Carolinians who were allowed to do their duty to the South by members of the society. Songs dear to the heart of the true Tarheels were sung by the "Old North Carolinians" singing under the leadership of P. C. McMichael.

Now comes little Miss Margaret Wallace, aged about 5 years, a "child of the sawdust ring"—her mother, Mrs. Rose Wallace, is well known in Atlanta as a dancer & ballerina, who, with dancing juvenile Atlanta girls, meet Monday—and throng a little into the camp of Atlanta little girls who are now the active bunches of delight when the sudden their dolls or stroking the silken fur of their kittens.

Miss Wallace says Atlanta little girls do not know what a real house-to-goodness pet is. She turns up her little nose in disdain at the idea of a pet with dolls, or even with kittens and dogs.

She is partial to wild animals for pets and will stick the ear of a lion other little girls put their dolls to bed. Right now her "family" consists of a tawny leopard cub, a small, neatly spotted and with wonderfully thick fur, and a tiger cub.

Right now her "family" consists of a tawny leopard cub, a small, neatly spotted and with wonderfully thick fur, and a tiger cub. She has a few months old, and they scamp and play around with the little girl as she treats them all alike.

You can buy her a 25-cent bottle of Knott's Danderine from any drug counter and try it as directed. (Adv.)

HOME FOR BLIND APPEALS FOR ASSISTANCE

Atlanta Institution, About To Be Sold for Debt, Asks Citizens to Donate $3,000.

An appeal for funds to save the Industrial Home and School for the blind, which was sent out Friday, Oct. 24, which is located at 235 Simpson street, is scheduled to be sold for its indebtedness on the first Tuesday in November. The home has been forced to close its doors at times with which to meet the obligation.

The home was founded in September, 1912, by the Georgia Association for the Blind, which was organized in 1911 to care for the blind of Atlanta. When the Simpson street building was built, it was planned that blind children should be sent there in ways to support themselves. The building cost $2,300. The association owing on the necessaries of Atlanta to furnish the money. So far it has not been forthcoming.

"To save this institution $2,000 will have to be raised at once," the appeal states. "The amount of the amount is needed to pay for the house and $1,000 for a working capital."

The building is well equipped with machinery for the manufacture of brooms and other articles commonly made by those whose sight is gone. Since its inauguration the home has done well. It has sent many blind persons out into the world fully equipped to care for themselves.

To show the wonderful work the home is accomplishing, the directors have decided to throw it open Saturday morning for inspection.

One in Atlanta has been invited to visit the Simpson street institution. Its blind inmates will be at work at the time of the inspection to show the worthiness of the association's appeal.

Contributions to this fund will gladly received by the press.

This Ghost Story Rivals Poe's Raven

JACKSONVILLE, ILL., Oct. 24.—The weird and uncanny raven made famous by Edgar Allan Poe is outdone by this mystery bird.

A poor black woman, garbed in somber black and veiled, walks the streets of the residence district at 8 p. m. and stays indoors. Every night for the past week this mystery woman has been noticed. She has been seen to follow persons on the streets and to enter the houses of the persons followed. She would turn to leave if the woman gradually fades away.

The woman has so tightened the ropes on the persons that many look for her house at 8 p. m. and stay indoors until morning.

Young Doctor To Be Monkeys' Caretaker

SAVANNAH, Oct. 24.—A number of monkeys, to be surgeon, lavender boy with pell-mell, are due to arrive in Savannah in the next few days. When the Simpson street monkeys have been sent to the marine hospital where the Government's primate experiments are being made.

SCHOOL RELIEF MUST AWAIT NEW BUDGET

In Meantime, Special Committee
of Board of Education Will Make
Careful Study of Situation.

Members of the Board of Education took the view that no very important improvements could be made in Atlanta's public school conditions until after the new budget is made up by Council in January. That is the reason why no immediate financial funds can be secured any time soon. Between now and then the board members have planned to employ every effort in making a thorough study of the school needs.

It is already evident that when the new County Finance Committee comes into existence next month its first concern will be the school budget. The appointment of a special committee by the Board of Education to make a complete investigation of conditions in the schools is approved by Mayor Woodruff, who has been actively co-operating with this committee to be the leading committee of the Atlanta Federation of Parents of Children's Clubs, and the personal investigation will be added.

Daley Relies on Special Tax

As a member of the committee of the Board of Education, Mr. M. M. Anderson, said Friday that he expected much more to come from the new committee than from Atlanta's poor school facilities.

The object of our work now is to get all of our data in hand to be presented to the new committee.

A new idea for relief of the over-crowded buildings was suggested from the viewpoint of the Board of Education by Mr. J. L. Alderman, Tuesday afternoon. The suggestion came from the Board of Education to consider the addition of two or three new classrooms on top of one of the new buildings. Alderman Nutting said the idea was good, but it should make such schoolsrooms very uncomfortable if adopted.

USE "CASCARETS" IF CONSTIPATED

Gently Clean Your Liver, Stomach and Clogged Bowels While You Sleep.

Take a Cascaret to-night to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and bowels and you will feel well and strong to-morrow. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, cold spleen, are subject to bilious attacks, are sick, gassy, disorderly stomach, or have constipation, take Cascarets. Are you keeping your bowels clean with castor oil? If so, you know a passage was every few days with an cathartic pile or castor oil?

Cascarets will cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the waste products, help to digest food and fecal gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constituents of the bile, and cleanse the intestines and bowels.

To those who are too weak to straighten out you by morning, A Cascaret will do the trick. It will cleanse your bowels after drugs, tinctures and cathartics. It is a healthy bowel action, stimulates and cheers you for months. Don't forget the children. (Adm.)

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Two Sales Are Made On E. Fourteenth St.; Apartment Planned

C. Shelerton May Build 10 Stories
E. M. Horne in $10,000 Deal.
Other Realty Notes.

The Piedmont avenue and East Fourteenth street district figured prominently in real estate news yesterday. Sales included a large corner residence and a large vacant lot on which a big apartment house will be built.

Calvin Shelerton, the well-known architect, has bought a large corner of Piedmont avenue and East Fourteenth street, the north corner of which is bounded by Piedmont, Peachtree and Peachtree street, and will soon begin the erection of a handsome apartment house. The cost of it has not been definitely determined, but it is said that the building will contain 10 stories and a maximum of ten, with the cost of $10,000.

This lot overlooks Piedmont Park opposite the Piedmont Driving Club and is bounded by Peachtree and Peachtree street.

Mr. Shelerton is the builder of the Atlanta Federation of Parents of Children's Clubs, and the personal investigation will be added.

East Fourteenth Home Bought.

E. M. Horne has bought from Mrs. David H. Keefer the Keefer home at 1600 Piedmont avenue, for $10,000. The date going to record.

The transaction was handled by Mr. Keefer's son, Andrew, and Mrs. Horne's agency. Mr. Horne has been living on Ormewood Court.

Good Time to Build.

Now is the best time to build, report the experts. It is a good time to build to take advantage of an abundance of building material. They say building costs are down about 2 per cent cheaper than last year, when the greatest building boom in history took place.

It is a good time to buy lumber to build a house, because the withdrawal of a good many of people from the market has caused a great deal of pressure on lumber.

Contractors lose money when dealing with lumber now, because there is less demand for it. The best time to buy lumber is when it has been put into a crowded market.

It is a good time to buy lumber and some a trifle higher, but the saving to the consumer at the present time is estimated to be about 25 per cent.

PATTER AND LOEB OUT OF FLORIDA GAME

Coach Heisman Refused to Take a Chance With Injured Players; Thomason at Quarter.

WHEN the Tech team lines up against the University of Florida at Jacksonville tomorrow, Gene Patten and Al Leob will be on the side lines, respectively, to be on the side of Coach Heisman, who has decided to play the game without these two, which means that the pair will have to wait another week before getting into action.

Patten has had a sprained ankle and Leob a bad cold, both of which are signs of coming trouble, and Coach Heisman, realizing the value they will be to the Jackets in the November game, would rather not have them services in the Florida battle that, taken a chance having them hurt.

With Patten and Leob out and still going to play the game, only one change will be necessary in the Tech line-up. Thomason going to quarter in place of Patten. Travick has been playing center since he came and has done a good job with the duties.

The Jackets had their last practice yesterday morning, the rainy weather, Coach Heisman, put the practice off until the end of the entire week. The practice is to make a wet ball was enough to do the trick.

The Jackets marked improvement in the charging of the line-men after the week of patient practice on this one point. They are now in full attack and defense against the lighter Morris.

The Jackets leave this afternoon for Jacksonville. About eighteen men will take the train, and the rest will probably be Travick, center; Morris, left end; Cook, right end; Alexander, Hayes and Rainey, backs; Press, Hayes and Cushman, ends; Cook, Hayes and Rainey, backs; Montague, Fielder and D. Smith, backs. The two players who will play against the Alligators will be Travick, center; Hayes, left end; Hayes, right tackle; Press, left end; Hayes, right end; Rainey, right back; Cook, left halfback; McDonald, right halfback; and Johnson, fullback.

Virginia Alumni to Entertain Team Here

Arrangements have been made for the Virginia Alumni to entertain the University of Virginia for entertainment for their football team during their stay in the city before and after the game with Georgia at Ponte DeLeon to-morrow afternoon.

The alumni committee will await the arrival of the team at the hotel shortly after noon to-day, and escort them to the Hotel Atlanta, where they will remain until to-morrow afternoon.

The committee has also reserved a room for the Virginia alumni and all Virginians residing in Atlanta.

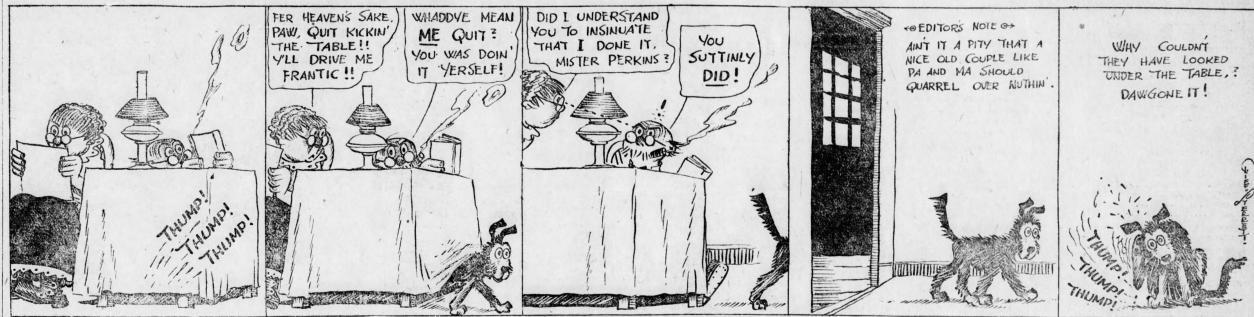

McGroarty-Dillon Go Cinched for Nov. 3

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 24.—All bitches in the Eddie McGroarty-Jack Dillon match, for their tenth meeting at New Orleans, should be No. 10, as the bout has been smoothed over and the match is decided in favor of McGroarty in Chicago, where he beat Dillon, his old boy from his home town, Indianapolis. Jimmy Braddock, the new champion, Andrews will finish the semi-weight.

Tour Won't Hurt Men'—McGraw Expects to Cop Pennant in 1914

By James Clarkson,

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Many of the baseball critics think that John McGraw's New York Giants won't be there when the National League pennant is awarded.

The American League, however, takes several of its star athletes on tour, a tour of which baseball critics are predicting that when the season is over, they will be "full in" as far as their losses are concerned.

It can't make baseball's little Napoleon—McGraw—believe any such a fact. According to the wife and crusty husband, McGraw is with his globe-touring party, but he is not alone. He had quite a chat with him before leaving.

We are not given to guess what the direct question of what he thinks of his team's chances in the National League next season. His answer was a short one. "I think we'll be all right, as I did during the past year."

He doesn't believe his team is "swinging," but that the critics are right in their opinion of his team's chances.

McGraw is more enthusiastic over his young pitchers than he is over his young players. He has given to him, especially Pudge Schuster and the others, a chance to show what the above-named twirlers should

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

THE HOME PAPER

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Published by THE GEORGIAN COMPANY
At 20 East Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga.

Entered as second-class matter at postoffice at Atlanta, under act of March 3, 1873.

Child Labor in Georgia and a Letter From a Gentleman Who Objects to It and to a Cartoon Opposing It.

The editor of The Georgian is in receipt of the following letter:

Dear Sir: I am taking the liberty of sending you their [sic] a very "two-faced" cartoon in your paper of even date, headed, "LIFE—LIBERTY AND THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS."

It seems to me that while you are running articles on child labor and slavery on your back page that you would refrain from running ads like this on the inside page, viz:

WANTED
Inexperienced females and CHILDREN in Bag Factory; Good Wages.

I appreciate the fact that you will not publish this letter. You don't dare, as it would attract attention to your two-faced policies, but nevertheless, in justice to those most concerned, the children, I am going to write it and send copies to other papers, and if there be any means of obtaining a fair-minded editor to publish this letter, I will do so.

You have carried on this two-faced matter in several articles, and it seems to me that if you were really interested in the welfare of children and conditions that exist here in the South that you would refrain from advertising the fact that the "Mills of God and Hell" were still grinding away their little bones.

In some parts of our great country such double dealing might pass unobserved, but here it shall not.

Your paper could, by fairness, be made a medium of great worth toward the improvement of conditions, but not by such plain advertising on one page of the hellish mills that are cutting our country's future—the children, and on another page printing excellent editorial on Child Slavery.

Give this your consideration.

Think it over. Print what I have written or not, as you like, but remember that there are others than myself who see your "double dealing" and surely you will in some manner be called to account.

Thank God I am not one of the poor unfortunate who are born in slavery, and still more thankful am I that I am not the owner of one of these destroyers of Children.

Began a new reign and publish your excellent editorials, but don't advertise for more "children."

Very respectfully yours,

W. H. ROSSMAN,
Kirkwood, Ga.

It is an easy master to convince Mr. Rossman that he is mistaken in his idea that The Georgian will not publish his letter—even mistaken in his rather vehement suggestion that The Georgian "dare" not print it.

We do that by printing it.

The Georgian does not know, however, that it will be such an easy master to convince him of the additional mistake he makes in assailing the motives and sincerity of others no less earnestly opposed to child labor than he professes to be.

Nothing much by the way of benefit to anybody ever comes of losing one's temper or preaching the doctrine of intolerance, and so we dismiss the gentleman's tumultuous and even bitter references to the methods and motives of this newspaper along with his further suggestions of The Georgian's "two-facedness."

The cartoon he protests is reprinted in this issue of The Georgian, in the hope that its true significance may sink into Mr. Rossman's mind, and into the minds of some other perhaps as sadly misguided zealots.

The Georgian believes in the frankest and freest discussion of all matters affecting the welfare, progress, happiness and prosperity of the people.

The Georgian's correspondent probably does not understand that The Georgian is engaged primarily now in an effort to picture the enormity and unrighteousness of child labor—to picture it so plainly and so clearly that the movement toward its abolition in the South, once put in motion, shall not cease until it has been carried to a happy end.

The Georgian and Mr. Rossman both may engage in genuine service to the cause by leveling their guns at the deficient LAW of this State, rather than at one another!

If The Georgian had its way, no child should work in any factory, in any circumstances, under eighteen years of age!

We believe that children should be educated in the schools a reasonable part of their time, and also permitted to play and run free in the open air, to enjoy God's sunshine and the joys of life, while yet their youth is vouchsafed to them.

The trouble is—and that is the thing against which Mr. Rossman protests at heart, perhaps, however unwittingly he hits at this newspaper in attempting to reach something else—IN THE OUTRAGEOUS AND ALTOGETHER INDEFENSIBLE LAWS OF GEORGIA TOUCHING THE SUBJECT OF CHILD LABOR.

It is legally possible in Georgia for a tot of twelve to stult and wear its little life and vitality away in a cotton mill!

That should not be so!

The LAWS should be above such infamy!

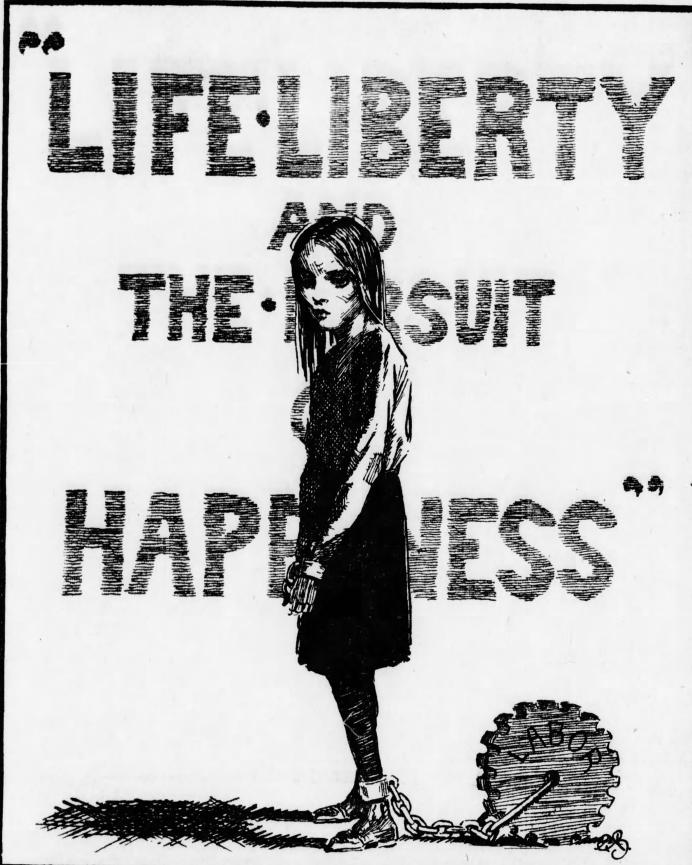

But so long as Georgia lawmakers permit untoward and inhuman conditions to exist in Georgia, just so long will this newspaper, and all others, be obliged to content themselves as best they may with protesting by word and cartoon and individual appeal to the limit of their sincerity and ability!

Mr. Rossman, in the meantime, does not advance the cause by attacking and questioning the motives and sincerity of those who are endeavoring to fight the very wrong against which he himself assumes to be so violently embittered.

We invite Mr. Rossman to hold his temper in better hand, and to direct his energies to the undoing of real enemies, not always to be found in the open.

Man and Woman: Which Is the Superior?

Each Excels, as Each Fails, in Certain Particulars; Both Are Necessary to Make Up Humanity; to Augue Further Is Futile.

By DOROTHY DIX

A CORRESPONDENT writes:

"Will you please discuss the Man Superior to Woman?"

A neighbor of mine, a foreigner, asked me this question.

He holds that he is far superior to me, yet she does twice as much work in the house as I do, both his home and his store, and it is her energy and intelligence that have made his business a success.

He argues about whether woman is superior to man, or man is superior to woman, in certain respects, and both are necessary to make up humanity. Take them by and large, and man and woman are cut out for each other, and the world is a better place.

VIRGINIA WILL FINISH GRIND HERE TO-DAY

Entire Squad Arrives for Clash With Georgia at Ponce DeLeon To-morrow Afternoon.

THE Virginia team and students body arrived here to-day dressed and eager for their clash with Georgia at Ponce DeLeon to-morrow afternoon. The players all appeared in good condition and confident of defeating their rivals.

Carlton, Varner, Harris, Neff and Johnson, and 18 players from the University of Virginia, Carter, Woodfolk, Maude, White, Gillett, Gooch, Miller, Landes, Collier, and H. C. Walker, and Walker, Goodwyn, Croomkens, and Walker.

The Virginia team will have a workout Friday afternoon at one of the local gyms. The game will consist of one of the longest contests ever played between two Virginia wins, or even more than Virginia wins by more than two points. The Georgia team is expected to give the Georgia team to be as good as possible, but the Georgia will not be able to do so in this ball game, and Virginia will be pushed to the limit to win.

KEOUKI PLAYER IS DRAFTED.
KEOKUK, Iowa, Oct. 24.—It was thought that the draft would go to the Georgia team, but the Georgia team had the draft route. Georgia had the draft route, and Walker, Neff, by Keokuk, subject to draft.

WINTER.

Oh, the long and dreary Winter,
Oh, the cold and cruel Winter,
When the baseball players beat it
And the experts hold fast mortises
On the late lamented season.

Send Bill Dakin to the minors,
Trade Ty Cobb for Chase or Speaker,
And elect poor Joe O'Brien,
Build a grandstand out on Park

To replace the ancient structure
That replaces modern baseball;

Or, if you like, let's have a winter
While the routers read and murmur,
Oh, the long and dreary Winter,
Oh, the cold and cruel Winter."

College Spirit is a mania, due partly to liquids.

It is evident in the fact that symphonies making them feel on September 1 and its derivative tail on the 21st. Thanksgiving Day.

College Spirit comes over its victims early on Saturday afternoons. It causes many to stand dumbfounded, now, lifting their voices in unison, even in a language that even a grand man can understand.

Men have arisen in their might, deeming it a duty to call a meeting of one to arise and say: "Give us back our college spirit, we have a mutiny."

College Spirit is that which prompts young men to wreck moving pictures, and the like, in the case which stands adjacent to the bar. Once upon a time we were so thor-

PATTEN AND LOEB OUT OF FLORIDA GAME

Coach Heisman Refuses to Take a Chance With Injured Players; Thomason at Quarter.

WHEN the Tech team lines up against the University of Florida in Jacksonville tomorrow, Jim Patten and Al Loeb, regular quarterback and center, respectively, will be on the bench. Coach Heisman has decided to play the game with these two, which means that the pair will have to wait another week before getting into action.

Patten has had a sprained ankle and Loeb a badly wrenched shoulder. Both are showing signs of coming around speedily, and it is felt that they will be in the fast lane in the November game, would rather be without their services in the Florida battle than take a chance of having them hit.

With Peas reinstated and eligible to play in the game, only one change will be necessary in the Tech's personnel. It is planned to open in place of Peas, Traskick, who has been playing center all the time and is familiar with the duties.

The team held their last practice yesterday, and despite the rainy weather, the Hokies put in a fine tune through the street work-out of the entire week. The practice, in the Tech's gymnasium, was a success, the Jackets showing excellent form in all phases.

There is a marked improvement in the charging of the team, and the new, more patient practice on this noticeable defect in the team's attack. The Tech's defense, under Mercer, baptizes each afternoon.

The Jackets leave about eighteen men will be taken on the trip. Those who will be left are: C. T. Thompson, end; George Lang and McGraw, guards; Alexander, Name and Ralston, tackles; Peas, Traskick, center; McDonald, McDonald, Thompson, Johnson, fullback; and Johnson, halfback.

Virginia Alumni to Entertain Team Here

Arrangements have been completed by the local alumni of the University of Virginia for entertainments to the football team during their stay in the city before and after the game with Georgia at Ponte Vedra to-morrow afternoon.

On the arrival of the Virginia party shortly after noon to-day, and again in the evening, there will be a reception in the grandstand for the University of Virginia alumni, all Virginians residing in Atlanta.

KRAZY KAT

How Could Crazy Read Backward?

'Tour Won't Hurt Men'—McGraw
expects to Cop Pennant in 1914

By James Clarkson.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 24.—Many of the baseball critics throughout the country are predicting that Tom McGraw's New York Giants won't be beaten in the World Series next season. Bill Johnson doesn't agree with the win critics.

The fact that the Giants were so severely beaten in the National League was, of course, the direct reason for so much unfavorable character given to the team.

Then, right on top of the defeat to come, the New York team comes along John J. McGraw and a world tour, a world tour which will be the chief pastime. Many critics say that the tour will be the death knell for the 1914 season.

But you can't make baseball's littlest star a world champion with such stuff. It's all nonsense, according to the wise and crafty baseball man.

McGraw's tour will be a splendid array of splendid baseball talent. The Giant-White Stockings will be the "Tour Not to be Missed."

As to the world tour itself, it may be that the team will not profit much from it. That, in itself, is sufficient proof that McGraw does not believe that the tour will be the death knell for his chances would be for the fair in the National League next season.

When the party strikes the foreign soil, the Giants will be far, far away from the West Coast, and as the athletes sail from Vancouver, they will have but one more month of the tour.

McGraw is more enterprising over his pitchers than any other manager.

The Judge Found Dead in a Disreputable Dive.

Mrs. Pankhurst Insisted on Telling It in Court—Although It Made Her Jail Term Longer.

Copyright, 1913, by Star Company

Mrs. Pankhurst is admitted to this country—as we thought she would be.

The distinguished Mr. Wilson and the gentleman whom he put in charge of the Immigration Department, Caminetti, have found it necessary to reverse their views and admit her to this country. She is to see the people of the United States and tell them her story.

She will have many meetings, be sure to attend them and hear her if you can.

You will not in your lifetime have a chance to see another woman of that kind, or one with her courage.

To-day we tell you how Mrs. Pankhurst insisted on telling the judge before whom she was tried last time just exactly what she thought about the law and about some of the judges.

The judge tried to stop her, but couldn't—even with the threats which he subsequently "made good" by inflicting a long prison term upon her.

It was Mrs. Pankhurst's intention—in her perfectly orderly, earnest and wonderfully eloquent speech—to take advantage of her opportunity commanding the world's attention, and to tell how the most miserable and unfortunate class of women are treated by the laws.

Long before it became so fashionable in this country and other countries—on the stage and in the pulpit—to discuss "white slavery" Mrs. Pankhurst had pointed out the fact that inequality before the law, the helplessness of women, and the brutality of men were responsible for white slavery. And that laws made by men only would never change conditions.

Inasmuch as certain disreputable journalists and others in this country have been accusing Mrs. Pankhurst of coming here to make money—repeating a lie that was told in England—it is well to state now that Mrs. Pankhurst was a rich woman when she began her fight to get justice for other women.

She has sacrificed her fortune and impoverished herself in that fight. Before she was last sent to jail in England, as the trial went on, the usual cowardly lie was repeated in court—that her agitation was based upon a desire for profit.

Please observe how Mrs. Pankhurst answered that:

Now I have speaking of personal matters, but many suggestions have been made not only here but even in the House of Commons that I have made money out of this movement, and as evidence that I had to sacrifice a very important part of my income in order to be able to do what I considered was my duty in this movement. It is hardly fitting for counsel to bring suggestions of this kind into so serious a matter.

Now I want to address myself to the men who are here guilty because in the indictment I am described as having "wickedly and maliciously incited women to do certain acts." I am not a wicked or a malicious person, neither are any of the women who responded, if they did yield to my incitement.

Now I want to add myself to the vicious practices of rich men.

My part in the movement has cost me a considerable portion of my income, because I had to sacrifice a very important part of my income in order to be able to do what I considered was my duty in this movement.

It is hardly fitting for counsel to bring suggestions of this kind into so serious a matter.

Now I want to address myself to the men who are here guilty because in the indictment I am described as having "wickedly and maliciously incited women to do certain acts." I am not a wicked or a malicious person, neither are any of the women who responded, if they did yield to my incitement.

She might well, in all probability have said, to some of the judges and jurors, that THEY knew the truth of what she had said. And that there was many a man in England, rich, powerful, filled with great contempt for Mrs. Pankhurst and the suffrage movement, who knew what it was to buy an automobile in the same way that Mrs. Pankhurst describes.

The most powerful passage in her speech—and that which the judge with typical cowardice tried to suppress, was Mrs. Pankhurst's determined revelation of the character of certain judges in England, chosen to try women, and to punish them for the FAULT of men.

Among the judges who inflicted trivial punishments on men that ruined girls, one at least had been found dead in a vile den—a white slave establishment. The judge, try as he might, could not suppress Mrs. Pankhurst or her statement. For she is A FIGHTER, and in court or out, and in spite of any judge, she will have her say. That is why the judges don't LIKE her.

Then she began on the subject so difficult for a woman of honor to discuss.

I want to say a few words to you, very serious words—having dealt with the law itself—and with the administration of it. Now, my lord, it is a very difficult thing to do, to say such things as these, because it is for me and for those who represent here to do this a burning question. The laws are made for men, and for the protection of women, but in addition we are asking that the administration of the law be more impartial. I was a very young woman when my mother died, and to this day I have been unable to come to terms with the administration of the law in a very painful way.

The judge who listened to Mrs. Pankhurst knew well what was coming, and interrupted her, saying:

"Mrs. Pankhurst, I am very loath to interrupt, but there must be some limit of propriety observed by women in your position. I must

To this Mrs. Pankhurst replied:

"My lord, I can't allow you as a judge, to indicate what is decent and what is not. You are perfectly obvious to you and to the court that I am not saying these things in any light spirit. After all

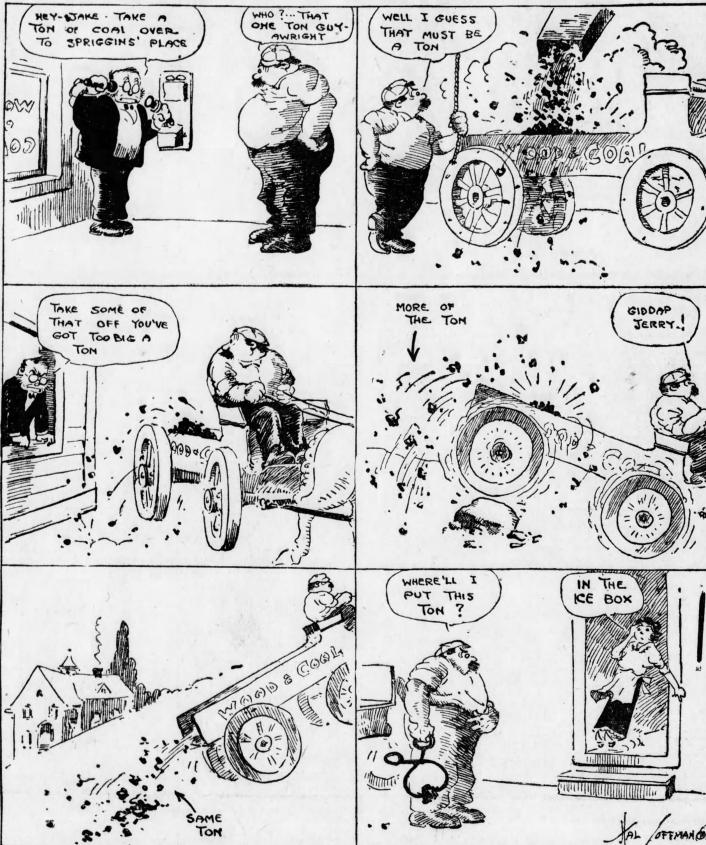

I am the widow of a barrister, and I lived in perfect harmony and comradeship with my husband during his life, and in the course of learning a good deal more about the administration of the law than any man in England. When I was a very young woman, not more than twenty years old, I had a young child, a very painful thing occurred. The asides were upon the law, and the law of the judges of assizes did not take place. In court, there were cases before trial at those assizes, cases of wracked men charged with terrible offenses against women."

The judge who listened to Mrs. Pankhurst knew well what was coming, and interrupted her, saying:

"ask you to observe the proper decorum incumbent upon you, and confine yourself to that."

What Is a Ton of Coal?

Man and Woman: Which Is the Superior?

Each Excels, as Each Fails, in Certain Particulars; Both Are Necessary to Make Up Humanity; to Augue Further Is Futile.

By DOROTHY DIX

A CORRESPONDENT writes:

"Will you please discuss the subject, 'Man Superior to Woman?' A neighbor of a foreigner, considers that man is superior to woman. He holds that he is far superior to his wife, yet she does twice as much work as he does. She runs both home and his store, and it is her energy and intelligence that have made his business a success."

To answer this question, man is superior to woman, as far as he is superior to man, as far as he is to woman, as far as he is to disease whether winter is better than summer, or rain or sun shine are more advantageous to growing crops."

Each excels in certain particulars, each fails in certain respects, and both are necessary to make up humanity. Take the case of a woman from the time when she washes out her little eyes when her born, to the day when she becomes a mother. In between these two times she helps him up, she runs him into the right path, and keeps him going, and makes him a little inferior man.

But why, goodness only knows, because it is woman who takes care of man in every state of his health. Take the case of a woman and man, and large and men and women are cut off pretty much the same pect of goods. A Mrs. Power says: "Women are foolish—God made them that way to match the men."

Vast Majority of Men Think Man Superior to Woman.

Undoubtedly the vast majority of men believe, on insufficient evidence, that they are far superior to women, and that the mere accident of sex is a sort of genius in itself, so that anybody who is entitled to wear trousers is a real genius, and a real man, and a sane judgment that even the most gifted creature deemed by nature to skirts.

A few women also hold of this view, and a great number profess to subscribe to it because experience has taught them that man is woman's superior in at least one woman's vanity. They have found out that the easiest way to work a man is to sit at his feet and wait for his air, and tell him how big, and wise, and strong, and good he is, and what a poor miserable worm of a dust mite he is.

It is these chaffers who always want to be adored and sheltered by the fact that there are thousands and thousands of women who never draw a breath that isn't fraught with pain and who are unfortunately on account of sickness, infirmity, or disease, without even mentioning how they feel.

Undoubtedly Men Have Shown More Genius Than Women.

Men are braver than women.

There are even women who are afraid of mice, but every woman who bears a child goes smilingly forth to look into the face of death by torture. Only the exceptions may ever be heard of.

Men are braver than women, practically every woman experiences, and when he doesn't flinch they call him a hero, but woman's courage is a common thing that we never notice it.

And women have far more moral courage than men. Men are afraid of being called a scoundrel, of having the finger of scorn pointed at them. A man turns a disgraced daughter out of doors. He divorces a drunk wife, but a woman stays by her own, no matter how low they fall. It is women, and not men, who are waiting outside of the penitentiary doors to take the freed convicts home.

Men are the financiers of the world, but the average woman can make a dollar go twice as far as a man does when it comes to spending, and in those families where the wife is the easier you will nearly always find prosperity. It is also notable that in a business where both men and women are employed, although the women receive a smaller salary than the men, they will have a little bank account, and the men are borrowing money.

It is these chaffers who are a curse to society, and when the head of a big firm which employs both male and female labor was asked if he did not find that the women were a lot of scolds, he said: "Not so much as the men do from drunkenness."

And so you might argue the question endlessly as to which is the superior, man or woman. It is, in my opinion, a foolish question.

Men are superior to some women, and some women are superior to some men. But they average up about the same percentage.

The Judge Found Dead in a Disreputable Dive.

But the honorable and noble judge, who thought it perfectly proper to criticize and JAIL a woman for demanding her rights, thought it highly improper that the woman in public court should tell the truth about a judge sitting in judgment on women. He replied:

"I have not stopped you in weighing against the laws of this country and the way they are administered,"

Mr. Pankhurst then cited the case of a man who had murdered his wife of immorality—offering the immorality as an excuse for murdering her. She said:

"Well, my lord, if you will allow me to argue that point with you. I was reading the other day where a man was tried for the murder of his wife. He was allowed to plead that his wife was an immoral woman. No evidence was produced to prove it, but he received a very light sentence because that was taken into consideration. Now I put it to you, my lord, that I have a right to tell the truth, and I stand to stand in this dock to-day what experiences made me make the speeches I have made."

It was Mrs. Pankhurst's intention to tell the dreadful stories of cruelty to women, injustice and white slave brutality told by her husband, a practising lawyer, had made her realize her duty and decide to devote her life to getting justice for women.

But the judge could not tolerate any such shocking thing as alluding to immorality on the part of A JUDGE. It was all very well to accuse a murdered woman of immorality, and thus enable the murderer to get a light sentence—he being a man. But it would never do to permit a woman in the dock to tell what she had known about one of the judges.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Pankhurst, having a wit somewhat quicker and a will somewhat stronger than that of the judge, DID SAY WHAT SHE HAD TO SAY.

She talked about various other things, until the judge had resumed his normal, drowsy mood, and suddenly she said:

"I have been told that I may not refer to the provocation we have received in the administration of the law, that I may not tell you of a judge of the assize who was found dead in a brothel."

The distinguished and noble judge had done his best, but Mrs. Pankhurst had said what she wanted to say. She had the satisfaction of doing her duty, and of telling a judge on the bench that she protested against a system which made women cringe before a judge of the very type of one "found dead in a brothel."

If the judge had had heart, conscience, sense of justice, or even a sense of humor, he would not have disgraced himself by threatening Mrs. Pankhurst, as he did, with excessive severity, saying:

"I think you have committed me to be guilty of a most shameful want of decorum in making that observation. I stopped you because you have done the very thing that I told you you ought not to do."

She is doing yourself no good, allow me tell you."

Mrs. Pankhurst knew perfectly well that she was doing her self no good in the opinion of the judge. She knew that he would inflict a heavier sentence because she had had the courage to tell him to his face that a judge found dead in a brothel was no man to pass judgment on defenseless, miserable women, brought to the lowest condition by other men, LIKE JUDGE HIMSELF.

Fortunately, Mrs. Pankhurst didn't care. For as she told the judge quite calmly, she would stay in jail ONLY AS LONG AS SHE CHOSE TO STAY. And they knew very well that she would have done her word, that she would come out of jail alive or dead within the time that she fixed.

What do you think about a woman, delicate, and in feeble health, past the prime of life, fighting almost single handed against brute, past the prime of life, as is represented by that judge? What do you think of the course of such a woman, defying the Court and the whole judicial system of England, making good her threat by starving herself until the cowards who had put her in jail no longer had the courage to keep her there?

She will be remembered when many milk-sops who think themselves important men will be forgotten!

PERSECUTION OF GREEKS

Editor The Georgian
I read with the greatest interest your article on the persecution of Jews in Russia and I wish to congratulate you upon your stand for humanity. Nobody nowadays dares to suppose that the lives of human beings are as atrocious as the Jewish race seems to be disposed of in Russia.

But while I share your sympathy for the persecuted, I am sorry to say that the persecutors, who are the weak, are the ones who desert their little children and leave them to starve. It is men who are the ones who live over and over again (which makes your sentiments still nobler). I wish to ask you a simple question.

Do you really think that the life of a Jew is before God worth any more than that of a Greek, an American, or a Frenchman?

Do you think that Jews persecutors are more wicked than the Greeks? Do you think that the Greeks are more wicked than the Russians? Do you think that the Greeks are more wicked than the Turks? Do you think that the Greeks are more wicked than the Bulgarians? Do you think that the Greeks are more wicked than the Serbs? Do you think that the Greeks are more wicked than the Albanians?

You have, of course, read of the savage atrocities perpetrated by the savage Bulgarians in the second Balkan war; you are, of course, aware of the fact that over 20,000 Greeks perished from the hands of the Bulgarians, while cities and villages were destroyed by the pants-stricken soldiers and by order of the famous Bulgarian general, who has you raise your voice again against the perpetrators of those terrible crimes.

Are the defenseless Greek women who have been exposed in the eyes of civilized people more than the innocent Jews of Russia? DEMETRIOS VAFATIDES, Consul of Greece, Atlanta, Ga.

Out of 220 co-respondents in New York, 120 are 100% blonde. We can gather definite lesson from these figures, unless we are to believe that some women, and some women are superior to some men. But they average up about the same percentage.

And so you might argue the question endlessly as to which is the superior, man or woman. It is, in my opinion, a foolish question.
